

Curriculum Vitae

Jens F. Rehfeld (born October 11, 1941, Aarhus, Denmark)

Education and Degrees

- 1967 MD, University of Aarhus, Denmark.
- 1970-92 Visiting scientist at the Universities of Liverpool and Cambridge (UK); Karolinska Institutet (Sweden); University of Florida; UCLA; University of Michigan; Harvard Medical School (USA).
- 1974 D.M.Sc., University of Copenhagen ("Gastrins in Serum").
- 1988 Specialist competence in clinical biochemistry, Denmark.
- 1989 D.Sc., University of Copenhagen ("Pituitary progastrin and proCCK").

Employments

- 1967-69 Resident in Medicine and Surgery at Copenhagen Hospitals.
- 1969-75 Research fellow and senior resident, Dept Clinical Biochemistry, Bispebjerg Hospital.
- 1975-81 Professor of Medical Biochemistry, University of Aarhus.
- 1981- Professor of Clinical Biochemistry, University of Copenhagen, and administrative head (1981-2010) of the Department of Clinical Biochemistry, Rigshospitalet, Copenhagen.

Scientific publications

1011 publications including 607 original articles and 79 review articles in peer-reviewed journals, 53 textbook chapters, 92 chapters in symposia proceedings, and 8 books (including the monography "A Sense of Science" (in Danish)). The main theme is bioactive peptides, their biogenesis, and methods for their measurement in biology, pathogenesis, and diagnosis. Citations >30,000. H-index (WOS) 81.

Tutorials

Initiation and supervision of 22 doctoral theses (18 D.M.Sc. and 4 D.Sc.) and 16 PhD theses.

Editorial work

- 1979 Editor "Gastrins and the Vagus", Academic Press, London & New York.
- 1979-81 Editor "J Neurochemistry".
- 1980- Editorial board member "Regulatory Peptides", "Gastroenterology", "Digestion", "Scand J Clin Lab Invest", "Pharmacology & Toxicology", "Physiological Reviews", "Encyclopedia of Endocrine Diseases", "Peptides".
- 1990 Editor "Neuropeptides and their Receptors", Munksgaard, Copenhagen.
- 1992-00 Consultant in biochemistry, "The Danish Encyclopedia", Gyldendal, Copenhagen.
- 2000-06 Editor-in-chief for "Bibliotek for Læger" ("Library for Physicians"), Copenhagen.
- 2008-10 Editor "Cellular Peptide Hormone Synthesis and Secretory Pathways", Springer, Heidelberg & New York.

Reviewer of doctoral and PhD theses

At universities in Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands, and UK (N=46).

Reviewer atr professor appointments

In biochemistry, physiology, clinical biochemistry, endocrinology, and nephrology at universities in Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Australia, and USA (28 chairs (>250 applicants)).

Membership of scientific organizations

- 1974-85 The European Gastro-Club.
- 1975-90 Advisory Committee for Ulcer Research, The Swedish Medical Research Council.
- 1979-83 The Danish Medical Research Council (deputy chairman 1981-83).
- 1980- The Swiss Society of Endocrinology (honorary member).
- 1981- The Royal Danish Academy of Science and Letters.
- 1981- The Hungarian Society of Gastroenterology (honorary member).
- 1981-89 The Research Committee for the Copenhagen University Hospital (chairman 1987-89).
- 1984- The European Molecular Biology Organization (EMBO).
- 1985-90 The Max Planck Society, Advisory Board for Endocrinology, Germany.
- 1989-93 The Executive Committee of the Health Faculty and Senate of the University of Copenhagen.
- 1992-00 Steering Committee, The International Symposia on Regulatory Peptides (chairman 1994-00).
- 1995 The Danish Society of Surgery (honorary member).
- 1997- The Russian Academy for Science and Higher Education (honorary member).
- 2001-07 The Research Committee of Danish Physicians' Union (chairman).
- 2005-09 The Danish National Research Foundation (member of the board).
- 2007- The Royal Society of Science (Uppsala).
- 2011- The European Neuroendocrine Tumor Society (honorary member).
- 2018- The Danish Society of Clinical Biochemistry (honorary member).

Board membership of private foundations

The Novo Nordic Foundation (1982-99), Carlsberg-Welcome Foundation (1988-95), The Neye Foundation (1988-2012), The Yde Foundation (2001-07), The Warwara Larsen Foundation (2003-16), The Lundbeck Foundation, "The Brain Prize Committee" (2010-16, deputy chairman).

Honorary awards

- International* 1979 "The Mack-Foster Award", The European Society of Clinical Investigation, Cambridge, UK
- 1982 "The Keith Harrison Memorial Lecture Award", The Australian Society of Endocrinology, Sydney, Australia.
- 1994 "Prix van Gysel", The Royal Belgian Academy of Science, Brussels, Belgium.
- 1998 "The Ismar Boas Lecture Award", The German Society of Gastroenterology, Kiel, Germany.
- 2011 "Life Achievement Award", The European Neuroendocrine Tumour Society, Lisbon, Portugal.

- Scandinavian* 1980 “The Anders Jahre Prize for Young Investigators”, Oslo, Norway.
 1990 “The Poul Astrup Prize in Clinical Biochemistry”, Trondheim, Norway.
 1992 “The Bengt Ihre Lecture Award”, Stockholm, Sweden.
 1996 “The Anders Jahre Prize for Medical Research”, Oslo, Norway.
 2006 “The Nordic Research Award of the Lundbeck Foundation”, Copenhagen, Denmark.
- Danish* 1981 “F.E.M. Gaardon and Wife’s Prize”, Copenhagen.
 1982 “The Novo Nordic Prize”, Copenhagen.
 1983 “The Research Award of the Odd Fellow Order”, Odense.
 2008 “The K. and F. Johansen Award for Medical Research”, Copenhagen University.
 2009 “The Rigmor and Carl Holst-Knudsen Prize”, Aarhus University.
 2018 “The UBVA Award” for research ethics from the Danish Union of Academics.

In addition, medals and/or minor awards from the Danish Foundations of V.J. Glückstadt (1970), Classens Fideicommiss (1973), P. Strarup (1974), P.L. Pedersen (1975), N.C. Nielsen (1976), Christenson-Ceson (1978 and 1985), Th.E. Hess Thaysen (1981), L. & J.V. Christensen (1992), and The Rovsing-Tscherning Medal of the Danish Society of Surgery (1995). Knight of the Order of Dannebrog (1994), and Knight of the first degree of the Order of Dannebrog (2007).

Other aspects

Most cited Danish scientist in the international scientific literature 1985-2000. Organizer/co-organizer of international symposia on gastrointestinal hormones, regulatory peptides, and clinical biochemistry (N=9).
